

STC Training Delivery System

The STC training delivery system includes more than 1,950 training courses. The courses are provided by both public and private entities and cover a wide variety of topics relating to corrections worker tasks. Courses fall into two categories: Core courses to develop necessary skills for newly-hired personnel, and Annual courses to maintain proficiency or develop new skills for experienced personnel.

All training courses must be submitted to STC for certification before presentation. When submitted for certification each course is reviewed for:

- job-relevancy;
- instructor qualifications;
- cost-effectiveness; and,
- quality skills development.

The chart below shows the steps of the STC training delivery process:

